Welcome to the

 Goals & Objectives
The goal of the Delaware Valley Intelligence Center is to provide key resources for homeland security and crime prevention efforts throughout the region.

The DVIC will:
- Support an all-source, all-crimes, all-hazards approach to information sharing in ground, maritime, and aviation environments;
- Collect, analyze, disseminate real-time intelligence information to the appropriate operational and executive elements;
- Enhance regional coordination and assist in deconfliction efforts;
- Provide the basis for intelligence–led policing and homeland security functionality; and
- Facilitate public/private sector information sharing and coordination.

It is the objective of the Delaware Valley Intelligence Center to:
- Allow local and State public and private agencies, as well as the federal sector, to better forecast and identify emerging crime and hazard trends;
- Support multi-disciplinary, risk-based problem-solving approaches to proactively address terrorism, crime, and hazard threats;
- Support a community-focused public safety strategy;
- Provide a continuous flow of intelligence and information to assist public safety field operations;
- and Enhance the delivery of emergency and non-emergency services to the public.
Law Enforcement Side of ASIS
(data as of January 2016)

GPC ASIS Membership

Our membership in January consisted of 461 assigned national members; only 43 are currently paid local chapter participants. Our highest number has been 81 in recent history. Now 431 and 83.

Two of four Board members were LEA individuals, 1 more worked with police and LEA nationwide daily. Two of which were on active shooter security threat programs and assignments working directly with law-enforcement.

Eleven of the 43 (25%) local paid members were or are LE Agency individuals including PPD and FBI.

At least 10% (probably ~20%) of our 461 national ASIS members assigned to our chapter are active or former LE agency members including PPD, UPenn Public Safety, Temple Public Safety, several suburban police departments, DEA, FBI, Secret Service, US Postal Inspectors, and ATF.

Our GPC ASIS Survey

In our GPC ASIS Survey of September 2015, two of the three top ranked interests in meetings and topics were:
#1. Homeland Security monitoring and police department activities
#2. Security and lawsuit vulnerabilities - litigation reality
#3. Law-enforcement and security issues

Sixth was Criminal Justice, but reflecting on above interests we had a stunning turnout for our September 2015 meeting on this and accolades by attendees.

ASIS Welcomes 2016 President, David C. Davis, CPP

Mr. Davis is a graduate of California State University, Fullerton with a Bachelor’s degree in criminal justice.

About the Delaware Valley Intelligence Center

The Delaware Valley Intelligence Center (DVIC) was established to create cross-jurisdictional partnerships between local, state, and federal agencies, and private sector participants. The DVIC serves as the central point in the Delaware Valley region for the collection, analysis and, timely dissemination of all-hazards information. The fusion center concept is integral to the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) strategic initiative for information sharing.

Fusion centers are critical to forging strong partnerships and information sharing among state, local, and federal government agencies. It is important that these agencies act upon valid intelligence in order to successfully manage criminal, terrorist and homeland security threats within the DVIC area of operations.

The DVIC produces intelligence analysis for both law enforcement and non-law enforcement personnel, is capable of providing information in real-time to our key partners throughout the United States, and is part of the nationwide fusion center network. The DVIC coordinates with local, state and federal agencies, and members of critical infrastructure sectors to ensure a coordinated intelligence exchange and to disseminate information and all-hazards “best practices.” The DVIC serves as an information source for suspected or actual terrorist acts, natural disasters, criminal activity, and helps to facilitate comprehensive protection strategies. The DVIC is integrated into the national network of fusion centers. These centers have the ability to share information horizontally and vertically with partners at the local, state, tribal and federal levels.

Delaware Valley Intelligence Center (DVIC)

Now more than ever, connecting the dots before an emergency situation occurs is instrumental in safeguarding the well-being of our communities. In times of crisis, accurate and timely information sharing is crucial to supporting the health and safety of the public. The Delaware Valley Intelligence Center (DVIC) located in South Philadelphia utilizes a collaborative and proactive approach to forecast and prevent threats to the region, while ensuring the protection of people’s civil rights and civil liberties.

Using state-of-the-art technology, the cooperative intelligence center assists emergency responders in better identifying emerging crime, terrorism and potentially dangerous weather events in Southeastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, Northern Delaware and Northeastern Maryland.

Real Time Crime Center

The DVIC is home to the Real Time Crime Center (RTCC), an innovative unit that provides real time analytical and investigative support to the Philadelphia Police Department. Video feeds from city of Philadelphia, SEPTA, and independent businesses cameras are available for monitoring around the clock, by staff in the Real Time Crime Center. The RTCC also processes crime tips that are sent in by members of the public.

The DVIC provides a centralized, multi-agency intelligence-sharing network. This fusion center enhances the effectiveness of the agencies, organizations and community partners involved in hazard-prevention activities.

The DVIC adheres to all applicable laws protecting privacy. It has established a formal privacy policy, a full-time privacy officer and ongoing training programs related to protecting Civil Liberties.

A Unique Environment

Bringing federal, state and local law enforcement agencies along with essential public and private partners under one roof, helps to create clear, real-time communication pathways for information sharing. This ability to seamlessly share resources, expertise and valuable information maximizes our ability to detect, prevent and respond to suspicious or hazardous activity. In this unique, cooperative environment, the DVIC makes great efforts to prevent catastrophes, save lives and protect the people, communities and critical infrastructure of the Delaware Valley.
